Flood Disaster Helpline System Website - Built Using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript

Description :

The Flood Disaster Helpline System is a website designed to assist individuals during flood emergencies. Built with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, the site provides a user-friendly interface for accessing crucial information and support. Users can find emergency contacts, safety guidelines, and real-time updates.

The responsive design ensures accessibility across various devices, enhancing the system's effectiveness during critical situations. JavaScript functionalities enable dynamic content, such as interactive maps and live chat support, enhancing user engagement. The combination of these technologies ensures a reliable and efficient platform for managing flood-related emergencies.
